Make sure you know who your local LADO is and how to contact them.

MYTH BUSTERS

Myth:
Safeguarding is only for children.

Fact: We have a duty to safeguard adults in sport and physical activity.

Myth:
We have no problems at our club and don't need to do safeguarding.

Fact: Good safeguarding practice protects all participants and staff in the club. A club where you can safely raise concerns and are listened to, is a club that people engage with longer term.

Myth:
Lower level concerns can be dealt with at a club level.

Fact: Clubs have a duty to act on all concerns, but you must also follow your Club and NGB Safeguarding Policy to make sure concerns are appropriately responded to, referred and recorded.

SOMETIMES MANY SMALL THINGS ADD UP TO A BIG THING. DON'T WAIT TO RAISE A CONCERN.

LOWER LEVEL CONCERNS

A lower-level concern is any concern, doubt, or sense of unease, no matter how small, that someone may have acted in a way that is inconsistent with an organisation's code of conduct.

This includes inappropriate behaviour outside of work, volunteering, or being an athlete.

These concerns are often not considered serious enough to refer to a statutory service such as the police or children's services.

Reporting procedures should address concerns from within sports, such as those relating to the behaviour of a coach or participant, as well as concerns away from sport such as at home, school or in the wider community.

LOWER LEVEL CONCERNS

It's important that an organisation challenges all concerns, including those thought of as lower-level, as it discourages any further rule breaking or escalating behaviour from taking place.

When lower-level concerns are left unchallenged it creates the environment for more serious rule breaks and even abuse to occur.

PLAY THEIR WAY

The Play Their Way Movement aims to empower coaches to adopt a child-first approach to coaching, to ensure they have positive experiences in physical activity.

It is based on three key principles:

CHOICE

Children and young people have the right to play and shape what that looks like.

VOICE

Children and young people have the right to express their views.

JOURNEY

Children and young people have the right to develop in their own way.

INFORMATION FOR PARENTS

NSPCC SPORT PARENTS' HUB

We all want children and young people to enjoy taking part in sport – and parents play a key role in that.

The hub has been created to signpost parents to all the advice they need to keep their child safe in sport, from choosing safe clubs and activities, to supporting their child in a positive way.

Free e-learning for parents on the NSPCC Sport website:

If you're a coach or sports club, you can find further information on engaging with parents on the NSPCC Sport parents in sport topic page.

BUDDLE

Buddle (previously known as Club Matters) provides free learning and support resources, to inspire and strengthen clubs and community organisations offering sport and physical activity, and the professionals that work with them.

It shares the latest information, training, and tools to help clubs and organisations overcome challenges and make the most of the opportunities available to them.

It enables organisations to be safe, inclusive, agile, and resilient enough to secure their long-term future and unlock the advantages of sport and physical activity for everyone.

SAFEGUARDING ESSENTIALS

Safeguarding is a key responsibility for every organisation that delivers sport and physical activity.

All organisations should have safeguarding essentials in place, such as stand-alone safeguarding for adults and child protection policies and procedures.

If you want to know more about safeguarding policies, and procedures, recruiting responsibly for your organisation and how to go about getting a DBS check, then visit Buddle.

HEALTH AND SAFETY ESSENTIALS

All organisations employing five or more people must have a written Health and Safety Policy statement. The policy should cover all aspects of the organisation and be relevant to all employees.

A Health and Safety Policy demonstrates how seriously an organisation takes its health and safety responsibilities.

A good policy will show how the organisation protects those who could be affected by its activities. The policy should be of an appropriate length and relevance to the activities and size of the organisation.

MENTAL HEALTH

EVERYBODY HAS MENTAL HEALTH

The World Health Organisation (WHO) defines mental health as a state of wellbeing in which people can realise their own abilities, cope with everyday life stresses, work productively, and contribute to their community.

1 in 4 of us, however, will experience mental health problems in any one year (Bebbington and McManus, 2020).

Supporting your participants with their mental health is not only a legal requirement (Duty of Care Review and The Equality Act 2010), but also an essential aspect of maintaining a happy and healthy community in whatever setting, organisation, or physical activity you're involved with.

Learn more about the importance of supporting participant's mental health on Buddle.
